HOSPITAL LOSES DEADLY RADIUM

Trail of Blood . . . to Cell—Wild career of stolen truck today ended in a trail of blood which Officer Roy Hodgkins (shown) followed . . . to arrest paroled Stanley Manchure, 20. Following booking (pictured) in Revere Beach police station by Officer Joseph O'Hara, youth was given 21 months in Chelsea court. STORY ON PAGE 2

'Sorry' for Suicide—After writing note, "I am sorry," despondent Gladys Frazin Banks, 38, leaped to death from her New York apartment. Known as the "skipping wife" because of continual disappearances, she was divorced by Film Director Monte Banks in 1932. PAGE 3

Seek $10,000 in Deadly Radium Missing From Hospital in Cambridge

Missing for more than 12 hours, $10,000 worth of radium—death-dealing if improperly handled—was sought at Cambridge city hospital today.

Doctors, nurses and hospital officials were in a furore, reluctant to make the loss public, yet fearing possibly fatal effects of the radium falling into hands of some person not aware of its deadly properties.

Loss or theft of the radium followed its use last night by a doctor treating a patient at the hospital.

According to Miss Gertrude Grandfield, acting superintendent, the doctor washed the tube containing the radium, then put the tube back into its portable, lead-lined case. This case Miss Grandfield described as about the size and diameter of a single spectacle lens.

MAY BE IN TOWEL

She said hospital officials were proceeding today on the theory that the doctor laid the radium, in its case, on a towel on a table at the bedside of the patient.

A nurse or attendant, tidying up the room, might have removed towel and case without noticing the latter, Miss Grandfield said.

She told the Boston Evening American:

"The radium isn't dangerous as long as it remains in its case. But if any person, ignorant of its use, took it out of the case and handled it, consequences might be serious."

Miss Grandfield said the amount of radium missing was about 15 milligrams. She estimated its value at $10,000.

Under her direction, special search was being made today in the hospital laundry and in waste receptacles.

RECORDS CHECKED

Meantime, records were being checked to ascertain the exact hour at which the missing radium was taken out of the vault where it was kept.

Every person who handled the deadly and costly substance and every person employed in the ward where it was last used was called to Miss Grandfield's office today for close interrogation.

She said she did not believe the radium was deliberately stolen or that it could have ben taken from the hospital, unless by accident.

Police and newspapers were asked to collaborate in broadcasting a warning to the public, calling attention to the danger of handling the radium.

Reason for the radium being left temporarily on the table in the ward was a telephone call which called the doctor from the room, investigation indicated.

SEARCH IS STARTED

The patient treated with the radium was in Ward G, the women's surgical ward, it was revealed.

Special instruments, tremendously sensitive to radium emanations, were requisitioned by hospital authorities for use in the search.

Once previously, it was reported, these instruments led to the finding of a misplaced radium tube at Cambridge City hospital.

JAIL TERM GIVEN BOY TRAPPED BY TRAIL OF BLOOD

Trapped by a trail of blood leading from an accident involving a stolen truck, Stanley Manchure, 20, of Spruce street, Chelsea, was given sentences totalling 21 months today after pleading guilty to charges of automobile violations.

He was held for the grand jury on an auto larceny charge.

Manchure was accused of being one of the youths who stole the truck and later sideswiped two cars before crashing into a third auto and injuring two persons on Revere Beach parkway.

Police said they followed a trail of blood more than 100 feet to a house where a woman said a youth just ran through her yard. Manchure was arrested nearby.

He pleaded guilty to three counts of leaving the scene of an accident involving property damage, to one count of leaving the scene where persons were injured, and to a charge of driving to endanger.

A second youth is still sought as his companion.

Meanwhile, Henry A. Kelly, 38, of Dunn road, Revere, who was injured when his car was struck by the stolen truck, was released from Chelsea Memorial Hospital. His wife, Helen, is still held there with a possible fractured skull and other injuries.

2 CRUISERS FOR QUINCY

The Navy Department today awarded contracts for construction of two light cruisers to the Fore River Shipyards as officials announced the largest expansion program at the Quincy plant since the World War.

Each cruiser will cost $11,695,000 and one must be finished in 36 months, the other in 38 months, shipyard officials said in announcing the contracts.

The announcement to expand the plant at a cost of $640,000 was made simultaneously, but had been decided upon several days ago in order to take care of contracts already in hand, it was announced by William H. Collins, general manager.

Collins said the work on the two new cruisers will start within a month or so.

At present the yard has under construction the airplane carrier Wasp, the battleship Massachusetts and two destroyers.

Private work includes construction of three passenger and freight vessels for the Panama Steamship Line and four American freighters.

Judge Fosdick Raps Mental Bureau as 'Lax' in Methods

Sharp criticism of the State Department of Mental Health for laxity and failure to co-operate was voiced today by Judge Frederick W. Fosdick in superior court.

ne judge's censure, in open court, came when he was told the department of mental health, formerly the department of mental diseases, had failed to examine a defendant in a sex case.

Judge Fosdick

"This is extremely exasperating' said Judge Fosdick. "Under the statutes, I am supposed to have the assistance of the department of mental diseases. This is very lax.

"The court expects the department to do its duty and have this man examined. This is the second time in two days that this has happened."

He then instructed Court Clerk John Casey to notify the department immediately that the court wished the defendant examined mentally.

The case is one in which Nicolo Ruggiero is charged, in two indictments, with assault and battery on a little girl, abuse of a female child and assault with intent to abuse.

Appearing for the defendant, J. Walton Tuttle, blind attorney, called Judge Fosdick's attention to the fact that there had been no mental examination of his client as required by law in such cases.

NEW YORK, March 9 (INS)—It was small comfort today to Rev. Nicholas Fraser, Negro, that one of the two men, he charges sold him a $96,000 church which did not belong to them for a $22.25 down payment was held by police.

Rev. Fraser kept up the "easy payments" until he had given the two men a total of $850. They gave him two keys which did not fit and then he found out the church was not theirs to sell.

Actress Pens Note, Plunges to Death

NEW YORK, March 9—Gladys Frazin Banks, 38, a well known actress and divorced wife of Monte Banks, film director, leaped to her death early today from the sixth-floor apartment of her parents in West End avenue, according to police.

A note addressed to "mother and Dad," found in the apartment said:

"Please forgive me for what I am doing. I can't suffer any longer."

Her brother, Alfred Frazin, said she had suffered from nervousness and despondency the past week and appeared morose and melancholy.

Mrs. Banks' body, attired in night clothes, was identified by her father, Louis Frazin.

Banks was believed to be in England.

Mrs. Banks was divorced by the screen comedian in April, 1932, at Los Angeles after a series of events in which her continual disappearances won her the title of the "skipping wife."

Banks charged cruelty and testified she was intoxicated when she returned home after many disappearances. He also charged she had humiliated him by calling his place of employment and engaging in telephone quarrels. The couple were married in New Jersey in 1929.

A sensation as "Tondelayo" in "White Cargo," Mrs. Banks also scored successes in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," "The Woman in Room 13," "On the Spot" and "Marriage Is No Joke."

She was married four times. Her first husband was Leo Lowenstein and they had a son, Leo, now 19. After she and Lowenstein were divorced she married Harris Gilmore and Dick Lenie, both actors, and in 1932 married Banks. They were divorced in 1932.

HITLER'S 'DEATH' SAID TO BE PROVED BY GIRL DANCERS

"Austere" Adolf Hitler's sudden and very recent interest in shapely American dancing girls was occasioning controversial comment here, as elsewhere, today.

Boston opinion, on the whole, was reported to be in favor of giving Der Fuehrer a break on the theory:

"Maybe the guy is human, after all."

According to supporters of this school of thought, Hitler merely proved himself to have a normal masculine eye for feminine charms when he "honored" lovely and talented Marion Daniels and Miriam Verne with his warm, personal approvia.

Throughout Europe, on the other hand, whisperers were saying today:

"The real Hitler was a woman-hater, a misogynist. His idea of fun was a Wagnerian opera. This 'Hitler' with a yen for American cuties is a masquerader, a double, used as a puppet by Nazi leaders who don't want the world to know Adolf Hitler, himself, died, just before the Munich 'appeasement'."

The report of Hitler's secret "death," long current on both sides of the Atlantic, was obviously strengthened by the Marion Daniels and Miriam Verne episodes.

But you couldn't find many show business experts here or in New York today who would admit to seeing anything abnormal in Der Fuehrer's susceptibility to American dancing girl "eye-appeal."

Boston's Rialto and Broadway alike received with complete aplomb reports of how the 49-year-old German dictator with the trick mustache called Miss Daniels back from the French Riviera to dance for him at a series of "command performances."

APPLAUDS DANCING

And of how he applauded and rewarded public and private exhibitions of the acrobatic dancing of lissome Miss Verne, 19-year-old Pittsburgh girl.

Tap-dancing Marion Daniels, first to win publicity through Der Fuehrer's favor, said he paid all expenses of a trip she and her mother made by airplane from Cannes to Munich and back to Cannes again.

"Hitler said my body and legs expressed 'poetry of motion'," she told friends.

GAVE HER $1170

Concrete evidence of the Nazi No. 1 man's approval was given Miss Daniels in the form of a shower of German marks, totaling $1170 in real American money.

Miss Verne, who put on her act in Berlin, gave three private performances at the new Reich Chancellery, with Hitler in attendance. She also graciously permitted Der Fuehrer to be present at one of her rehearsals.

Her reward, she said, was a box of candy, several elaborate bouquets of flowers, a solid gold swastika and "some" German money, all presented by Adolf Hitler personally.

"He told me I was simply wonderful," Miss Verne said, and blushed prettily.

Plane Crash Widow Sues British Air Line for $201,109

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—Theodore Iserman, attorney, said today he had filed suit for Mrs. Katherine Miller of Lincoln, Neb., one of the survivors of the Cavalier disaster, asking damages of $200,000 for the death of her husband, Donald Walters Miller.

The suit in admiralty, accompanied by 104 "interrogatories" which asked British Imperial Airways whether its captain had suffered from "hysteria," was filed in federal court for the southern district of New York. British Imperial operated the New York-Bermuda flying boat.

In addition to the $200,000, Mrs. Miller asked compensation for the loss of baggage which she valued at $1,109.50.

"The purpose of the suit," said Iserman, "is to fix responsibility for the accident and compel overocean foreign airlines operating out of American ports to provide the same safety measures as American-owned companies provide."

HITLER ENIGMA—Puzzle to people and grounds for belief that a "double" of Adolf Hitler now rules Germany is Der Fuehrer's sudden interest in women . . . a fact brought out by command performances of Marion Daniels and Miriam Verne.

Rain to Wash Away Hub Snow

Boston today had its first snowfall of any consequence since February 7, when 3.9 inches blanketed the city.

On February 22 there was a trace of snow, and on February 24 the city was visited with half an inch fall.

Thus far for the winter, however, the snow measurement is 23.6 inches, far below normal.

Warm southerly winds were expected to turn today's snowfall into rain by night, with little trace of it left by tomorrow morning.

The snow came on the wings of a storm from the Great Lakes area.

Tonight it will be warmer, with lowest temperature in the lower 30's, and Friday will be fair but somewhat colder.

Four Pennsylvania Ex-Officials Indicted

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 9 (INS)—Four former Earle administration Cabinet officials and nine other ranking Pennsylvania Democrats were indicted today by the Dauphin County grand jury investigating state graft allegations.

The ex-Cabinet members of the administration of former Governor George H. Earle indicted were: David L. Lawrence, former secretary of the commonwealth and present Democratic state chairman; former Highways Secretary Roy E. Brownmiller; Ralph M. Bashore, former labor and industry secretary, and the late Warren Van Dyke, secretary of highways under Earle.

CLAIMS $100 PAID IN RILEY'S OFFICE

Frank E. Riley, ousted director of the state commercial vehicles devision, introduced a "phony" truck fleet operator to a debarred truckman who was seeking a new permit and saw $100 paid the alleged operator in his own office, it was testified today before the department of public utilities, which is hearing the charges against Riley.

William M. Mowbray of Weymouth, 27-year-old bookkeeper for William Kelly, Boston fleet owner whose trucks were barred from Massachusetts roads after a hearing before Riley, was the first witness.

He explained Kelly was ruled off after it had been found he had intended purchasing another truck fleet and had used his own permit and his own drivers to cover the other routes for a week, as a check on revenues. This is a technical violation of the rules of his permit.

"Though Kelly was sick, he went to the hearing," Mowbray said. "Afterward John Lombard, his attorney, said he thought another permit, unlimited, might be arranged for $750. I said I thought that was too high.

"Mr. Riley introduced me to a Harry Segel of the M. & S. Truck Company. We were to get a new permit from him. My mother-in-law was to advance $500 toward the purchase of some new trucks, and the permit was to be in her name."

Richard D. Grant, chairman of the investigating commission asked:

Mowbray hesitated.

"Did he intimate it would be all right?" Grant pressed.

"Yes," was the answer.

Francis Rafter, attrorney for Riley, jumped up.

"Stop putting words in the witness' mouth," he cried. "You're the judge here, not the prosecutor."

TELLS OF $400 DEAL

"You've been doing it," Grant retorted.

"I don't want any dog fight with you, but I'm going to protect my client," Rafter said.

Mowbray said that he met Segel several times, once in the office of Segel's lawyer, Daniel Coakley, Jr., to discuss the permit. Finally, he said, he gave Segel checks for $100 and $150 in Riley's presence.

"Then Riley introduced me to a Joseph P. Brown in his office" Mowbray said, "and I gave him a check for $100 on the same permit."

Charles H. McCue, attorney for the vehicles division, asked Joseph P. Brown to stand.

"That's not the man I paid the money to," Mowbray declared. Later he added that he paid $50 more to Riley or Riley's secretary, he couldn't remember.

Earlier, Rafter had said if Riley's fight for reinstatement to his $5000 post was not successful at the hearing, the matter would be appealed to the courts.

John Minnehan, Somerville truckman, also testified that he had paid $400 to a "Richard Mason of Leyden" for an unlimited permit, but when Richard Mason stood, Minnehan said it was not the same man.

PREACHER KILLED IN R. I. BRAWL

PROVIDENCE, March 9—At street corner "revival" meetings and in a mission chapel he had furnished in his home, Evangelist Edgar DeShares, 33, often used to preach on the Bible text:

"Kinsman shall turn against kinsman!"

Today, DeShares was dead, fatally beaten after what police said was a barroom quarrel.

And his brother-in-law, Samuel Christofaro, 23, was arrested, charged with manslaughter.

Detectives of the homicide squad said Christofaro went to a drinking place in Decatur square and sought to persuade DeShares to leave companions and go home.

DeShares refused, and there was a quarrel, according to investigators.

Finally DeShares and Christofaro engaged in a fist fight outside the barroom and DeShares fell unconscious, police said.

Believing DeShares was only under the influence of liquor, his brother-in-law managed to half-carry, half-drag him to the Christofaro home, witnesses testified.

There the unconscious man's condition was seen to be serious. A doctor was called. He pronounced DeShares dead.

Capital Strike Hits 13 Hotels

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—The capital's hotel strike resulted today in cancellation of the annual dinner given President Roosevelt by the White House Correspondents' Association.

More than 600 newsmen and their guests had been invited to attend the annual party at the Mayflower Hotel Saturday night. The hotel was one of 13 using their own trucks to obtain their own supplies of milk, bread and beer because organized truck drivers refused to cross picket lines.

Hotel operators contended that service had not been stopped by the walkout yesterday of waiters, bartenders and kitchen help over the closed shop issue. Union leaders, on the other hand, called the strike effective.

HUB CUTTER SAILS TO HUNT ICEBERGS

Boston Evening American Photos

PATROL CALLS—Goodbye kiss to wife is last act of Coast Guardsman Lawrence Amann before he sails aboard cutter Chelan for annual ice patrol. He's holding son Jackie.

Appearance of two icebergs just off the northernmost transatlantic shipping lanes were reported today as the coast guard cutter Chelan steamed out of Boston harbor to begin the annual international ice patrol.

The two bergs, advance guard of the annual menace, were sighted about 35 miles north of the furthermost steamer route to Europe.

The Chelan will be joined in two weeks by the cutter Champlain, which will alternate in "riding herd" on the cakes as they drift southward to yield to warm currents.

Not since the Coast Guard took over the patrol by agreement of the leading maritime nations has a life been lost to the ice mountains of the north, which claimed the Titanic and with it 1517 lives.

The cutters will warn shipping of the position of each berg. Balloons will be used to gather weather data for projected transatlantic aviation.

Captains Lose Police Cars

All Boston police cars used by captains will be taken away, Commissioner Timilty announced today as he launched a drastic economy drive.

One chauffeur will be kept at headquarters with a car to be used for official trips, Timilty said.

Twenty captains will be affected by the cut along with Sergeant Edward J. Seiboldt of the ballistics unit, it was pointed out.

Timilty added that he will retain the two cars assigned to him as commissioner.

Governor Opens Tax Fight

In the face of bitter criticism, Governor Saltonstall today opened his battle for a tax program to include added gasoline taxes, cigarette taxes and others of the so-called "nuisance" variety.

The Governor sent his secretary, Daniel J. Lynch, before the legislative committee on taxation to press the proposals he had announced a month ago.

Even under the most drastic economies the Governor declared that the state would require additional revenue to maintain present services.

Secretary Lynch painted a gloomy picture of state finances before the committee.

"For the past 16 years, by legislative action and by executive action more than $1,000,000 a year has been added to the state's expenses," he said.

"Now we have got to take the rap."

The "inevitability" of new taxes to finance services required by law were described by Lynch as he explained the plight of both local and state governments.

"The Governor has instructed me to point out that even if the Legislature makes the most drastic economies, the Commonwealth is committed by law to maintain services which under present conditions will require additional revenue," he said.

"You have been told by Tax Commissioner Long that many of our cities and towns are now in distress. You aren't going to help them any by putting money into one pocket and taking it out of another.

"In one breath people talk about the state borrowing because we haven't got the nerve to pay the bills and say we'll let our children pay them.

"In the next breath we tell our children, who want to start their lives, and get married, that they can't buy a home because taxes have crushed real estate.

JURY AIRS WHEELOCK KILLING

With many Greater Boston "sporting" figures among the 16 witnesses called to testify, the Middlesex County grand jury today began investigation of the unsolved "gambling cellar" murder of John W. Wheelock in Malden, February 28.

Evidence was presented by District Attorney Robert F. Bradford. He said he did not expect an indictment "at this time," but he wished to have the full story of the alleged gangland slaying made a matter of record.

One of the witnesses taken before the grand jury at East Cambridge courthouse was Lawrence L. Horgan of Malden.

Police said he was owner and operator of the cellar room in Waverly street, Malden, where a high-stake poker game was allegedly in progress when five holdup men invaded the establishment, shooting down Wheelock and seriously wounding Patrick "Paddy" Flynn.

CALL MANY WITNESSES

Other witnesses included Thomas Marshall of Malden, alleged doorkeeper at the gambling cellar; Harry Hoffman of Malden, another alleged doorman; Melvin Goldenberg, Wheelock's chauffeur; Ray Kennon of Malden, a friend and associate of Wheelock; Frank T. Daly of Malden; Joseph Levenson of Everett; Samuel Duggan of Malden; Anthony Della Russo of Revere; Nathan Dubin of Chelsea; Jacob Tattelman of Chelsea; James Duval of Chelsea; Peter W. Kelly of Cambridge and Alphonse LaVargia of Malden.

PRESENT AT SHOOTING

According to police, all of these were present at the time of the double shooting.

Wheelock, a professional gambler, allegedly pulled his own gun and started to "shoot it out" with the five invading bandits.

They opened fire in return. Wheelock was killed instantly. Flynn, reputed to be his bodyguard, dropped with a bullet in his head.

Hair Style Coming Back--With a Bangs!

Upswing still reigns today in milady's coiffure, but bangs are coming back. So it seemed with 100 pretty models who paraded the latest hair styles at the Wilfred Academy show at the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

Bangs again make their entrance in America, perhaps as a result of English styles and the approaching visit of Britain's Queen Elizabeth.

The grand prize, open to graduates of the academy, was won by Miss Stella Alles of Cherry street, Cambridge. Hers was an abbreviated upswing.

Miss Marie Jensen, 18, of Rumford, Me., won first prize in the student competition with a dress also decidedly upswing.

In the graduate class, two first prizes went to Miss Beryl Marble of Brookline and Miss Marion Johnson of West Somerville. Miss Marble's style was called "Spring Madness," while Miss Johnson's hair featured a "Prosperity Wave."

One of the most startling of the styles shown was that of Miss Irene Carter of Winthrop. Her brunette hair was interwoven with gray hair, making a distinctive "checkerboard" arrangement. Miss Lenore Smithe of Winthrop modeled a colorful coiffure called "Basket of Roses," which had small roses on top of her head. The roses were separated by a gold leaf, under which green ribbon was woven into the hair.

1500 Reported Killed in China

SHANGHAI, March 9 (AP)—Authoritative neutral foreign sources at Ichang, goal of a Japanese offensive into the heart of China, reported today that 1500 persons had been killed or wounded there in two days of terrific bombardment by squadrons of Japanese warplanes.

It was estimated that 120 bombs had crashed into the center of the city which lies on the Yangtze river, nearly 1000 miles by water from Shanghai. The ancient north wall was almost completely leveled, along with many shops and houses.

Saltonstall Veto On Tax Refund

Governor Saltonstall today vetoed a measure authorizing the town of Dalton to refund "certain taxes erroneously collected" from Walter H. Pratt.

Approval "would have opened up to a taxpayer the right to seek special legislation to obtain privileges which are barred to him under our general laws," the chief executive said.

"If we adopt such a policy," he added, "it will lead to similar endeavors by other individuals to gain, at the expense of the current taxpayers, substantial refunds of taxes which have become outlawed under our general laws. Such special bills constitute bad legislation.

"Under our laws a person who has been erroneously assessed is afforded ample opportunity to protect his rights each year."

NAZIS SEE NEW PEACE WITH POPE

VATICAN CITY, March 9 (AP)—Authoritative Germans reported today that Pope Pius XII had discussed the church situation in Germany when he received the four German cardinals on Monday.

They said it was impossible to disclose the nature of the discussion "because of the great delicacy of the situation."

German quarters, however, expressed the hope that relations between the Vatican and Germany might be improved.

The four German princes of the church are Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich; Karl Joseph Cardinal Schulte, archbishop of Cologne; Theodore Cardinal Innitzer, archbishop of Vienna, and Johanes Adolf Cardinal Bertram, archbishop of Breslau.

Officials at the German embassy asserted nothing was known there of a message Chancellor Hitler was reported to have sent the Pontiff.

Berlin dispatches published in the Italian press said Diego von Bergen, German ambassador to the Holy See, delivered a message of congratulation from Hitler to the Pope when he called four days ago.

The dispatches said the message pleased Vatican circles, as the action of the Pope in granting an audience to the German envoy had pleased the Nazis.

Cardinal O'Connell Moved by Greetings

The 79-year-old prelate was visibly affected during a 10-minute talk to students at the college, bringing his talk to a sudden ending. He told some 160 students from all dioceses in the United States they must be able "to take it," and reminded them that hardships must be regarded as part of their work.

Cardinal O'Connell also expressed pleasure at the appointment of Amory Matthews of Boston as papal chamberlain. Son of the late Mayor Nathan Matthews of Boston, he served as papal chamberlain for the last six years, and is scheduled to begin his new duties with Pope Pius XII next week.

Kennedys Assigned Coronation Seats

Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, emissary designate of President Roosevelt for coronation of Pope Pius XII at Rome, will have a grandstand seat for himself, his wife and nine children, it was revealed here today.

John F. Kennedy and Joseph P. Kennedy, two sons, now are en route to Europe for the solemn event.

Senate Vote Flouts Boston Home Rule

Home rule for Boston today was defied by the State Senate, which by an 18 to 8 vote engrossed a bill authorizing the State Department of Public Utilities to approve a route for the Eastern Massachusetts Railway from Fall River to Boston.

HINTS SUIT IN WATCH, WARD RAID

Civil action against the Watch and Ward Society for taking his wife into court was threatened today by John Langmuir, following her dramatic and complete vindication in a vice case by Judge Frank Tomasello.

Judge Tomasello characterized actions of an agent of the society as "reprehensible" and threw out of court a case in which Mrs. Evelyn Langmuir was charged with being idle and disorderly.

"They haven't heard the last of this yet," said Langmuir at the St. Botolph street house where he and his wife have rooms. "They'll have an opportunity to see us again in court."

The husband, a WPA supervisor and former dynamiter in the United States Forestry Service, said he would consult with Attorney Harry Silver of 53 State street.

MAKES HER ILL

Ill in bed, Mrs. Langmuir said:

"I'm terribly upset over the whole thing, but I hope my experience will save some other innocent girl from the same fate."

In municipal court yesterday John Harris, Watch and Ward agent, testified that he had met Mrs. Langmuir in a Massachusetts avenue cafe and had gone to an apartment with her.

He told the court he dropped $3 in marked bills on a bed and then called in police, for whose presence he had previously arranged.

Harris described the 34-year-old woman as under the influence of liquor when he met her and said she was in that condition when she accompanied him to the apartment. He admitted, however, that she had given him back $2 and had gone out to look for the landlady to get back $1 which had been given her.

Judge Tomasello gave the case short shrift.

"This society must have little to do to prosecute a case of this type," he said.

"The Watch and Ward Society, I suppose, was formed for some useful purpose, but that purpose should be to help and to save rather than to destroy. There isn't a bit of evidence in this case to sustain the complaints.

"When the society's agents go out to take advantage of an intoxicated person, it is extremely reprehensible.

"And why is it that the woman who keeps the apartment isn't here as a defendant? According to the evidence presented she should have been complained of for running a disorderly house."

LOSER—Mrs. Madeline Vincent, 40, of Melrose street, South End, who reported to police she had lost $100 while bowling. A friend, Eleanor Morse, was questioned in the case. Mrs. Vincent is shown with Detective William Phillbrick.

Blonde Guilty In $100 Theft; Appeals Term

Found guilty of the theft of a $100 bill from her chum, Eleanor Morse, 27, attractive South End blonde, and Norman J. McCloud of Roxbury, were each sentenced today in municipal court to one month in jail.

They appealed and were held in $300 each for the superior court.

Accusing them was Mrs. Madeline Vincent, 40, of Melrose street, South End, who missed the bill, she said, while she and Eleanor were bowling in the South End and McCloud was keeping score.

In court, Mrs. Vincent said she had told Eleanor of having the bill and that while they were bowling, Eleanor said she needed a match to light a cigarette and went to Mrs. Vincent's handbag.

A short time later, McCloud, whom Mrs. Vincent did not know but who apparently was known to Eleanor, according to the witness, said he could not keep score any longer and left.

When Mrs. Vincent subsequently found her handbag open and the bill gone, she reported the loss to police.

SECRET AFL PLAN MAY BRING PEACE

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—The peace committee of the American Federation of Labor, keeping secret its proposals for labor unity, moved to New York City today to put CIO's proffered settlement to a conference room test.

The negotiators for both factions [illegible] to begin consideration in New York tomorrow night of John L. Lewis idea for embracing the CIO, the AFL and the Big Four [illegible] new court to [illegible].

The [illegible] agreement to [illegible] the [illegible] AFL Executive Council [illegible] offer to possess [illegible] peace was [illegible] to have saved the negotiations from an early relapse.

Men, considerably of the CIO [illegible] labor met and did not indicate any change of the AFL attitude of opposition to the CIO [illegible] proposal. It will be open for the Executive to [illegible] counter proposals at the next meeting.

In the past, President William Green of the federation has served notice that the [illegible] structure of the 54-year-old organization would not be [illegible] to the CIO [illegible] compromise.

Labor men commenting on Lewis's bold stroke in offering a wholly new scheme for uniting the labor forces indicated that he used the same technique in the futile peace conferences of 1937.

At that time he proposed [illegible] the CIO an autonomous organization within the AFL. The federation made counter-proposals which left the two sides unable to agree.

SEIZED AS FUGITIVE

Wanted in Louisiana for allegedly transporting a stolen car, Gunnar Eric Sundstrom, 21, of Brockton, was held in $500 as a fugitive from [illegible] for hearing March 22 by U. S. Commissioner Gaffney.

Reward Given Back to Newton

The $1000 reward offered by the city of Newton for information leading to the capture of Edward T. Simpson, who died in the electric chair last year for murder of Patrolmen Henry G. Bell and Lawrence E. Murphy of the Newton police, was returned to the city treasury today.

Chief Michael Hughes stated no civilian had come forward to claim the reward. City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett ruled the police were not eligible for the money because the arrest came in their line of duty.

This ruling also prevented payment of the money to the widows of the slain policemen.

Seek Townsend Bill Admission

More than a thousand Townsendites from all sections of Massachusetts today crowded a State House auditorium, only to learn that their bill, urging the legislature to go on record in favor of a federal constitutional amendment embodying the basic principles of the Townsend pension plan was still before the rules committee for admission.

H. B. Elliott, national representative of the Townsend movement, immediately appealed to Republican Speaker Christian Herter, chairman of the rules committee, asking him to push the measure through so it could be heard by the legislative committee on constitutional law.

Man on Relief Left $133,777

NEW YORK, March 9 (INS)—Joseph Peterson who had been on relief when he was struck and fatally injured by an automobile a year ago, was discovered to have been a rich man.

When Peterson died in a charity patient in Bellevue Hospital he left a gross estate of $133,777. An accounting of the estate filed by his sister, Emelie G. Hubbard of Southampton, N. Y., was approved by Surrogate James A. Foley.

O'Connell Backs W. R. Hearst Plea

P. A. O'Connell, president of E. T. Slattery Company joined with hundreds of the nation's outstanding execs in the financial and industrial world in giving praise to the recent broadcast of William Randolph Hearst entitled "A Plea for Prosperity."

Commenting upon the Hearst address Mr. O'Connell said:

"I fully believe that financial and industrial leaders will place their stamp of approval upon the remarks made by Mr. Hearst during his recent 'Plea to Prosperity' broadcast.

"Now we are attempting to return to prosperity. The big test will come as we attempt to shift from the motive power of government credit spending to that of private initiative.

"If those in control of government learned from the mistakes of the past, if they appreciate the problem in hand and honestly endeavor to help, it may be that in 1939 the economic machinery of the United States can again be made to turn without the artificial stimulus of expanding government credit.

"In 1937 some evidence appeared that business had begun to increase by its own momentum. Hardly had this started when three violent checks were introduced by the government. Federal relief disbursements were sharply curtailed, higher taxes, including social insurance payments which took more money out of private circulation than government expenditures put back, and radical labor policies of the administration which frightened private enterprise to a standstill.

"The answer to our hopes and fears for the long-time future lies essentially in Washington.

"We hope that the administration in Washington will reverse their present attitude toward business and industry and lend a helping hand which in turn will result to the adding of workers to private payrolls instead of government relief rolls."

SPAIN RED REBELS AIM AT VALENCIA

HENDAYE, France (Spanish Frontier), March 9 (AP)—Official French reports from Madrid today described a "new Communist revolution" against Republican General Jose Miaja's defense council.

Increasing Communist attacks on Miaja's regime were attributed to a split between Valencia and several other key cities of the south-central Loyalist territory.

Communist forces between Madrid and Valencia were said to have been cut by rebel forces of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

In Valencia, it was reported, the Communist commissars were expelling the agents of the Communist Internationale.

ARRESTING REDS

The new anti-Red drive came after Miaja had ordered a free Communist organization, the United Marxist Workers party (POUM), dissolved, charging its members with espionage for Franco and Communist plots to establish a Soviet government.

Valencia was described as one of the most complete tyrannies.

Throughout the central zone defense council agents were arresting Communists suspected of participating in the revolution.

No reports were available from cities or areas where Communists have risen.

An official Madrid broadcast warned severe measures were being taken to suppress the Communist revolt.

(Recent dispatches from Madrid said Miaja had threatened severe measures to punish rebellious Communists in Madrid and Valencia. Planes were said Tuesday to have broken the "last revolt.")

SUPPORT OF ARMY

"Counting on the unconditional support of all branches of the popular army," the broadcast said, "the national defense committee has put into effect several of its measures.

"Republican aviation is acting against the seditious group. Infantry forces are preparing to restore tranquility to Madrid."

Dispatches indicated General Franco planned a double attack against the coast and Madrid to speed up surrender by the defense council under Miaja, with a view to ending the civil war.

A message reported intercepted from the Republican naval base of Cartagena said the Nationalist fleet had arrived and the few other warships remaining there under Republican command were ordered out on "a raid calculated to prevent the Nationalists' control of the coasts."

FRANCO LEADS MEN

Franco was reported to direct the battles from Burgos to the Levant personally, remained on the Madrid front. He was said to be ensconced behind another of Castile's ancient stone walls behind the front lines which pass through the outskirts of the capital.

The Nationalist thrusts proclaimed at Burgos yesterday extended from Sagunto to Adra on the east and southern coasts of Mediterranean coastline held by the Republicans.

All ships, regardless of the cargo or flag, was warned they would be liable to capture if it entered within the three mile limit.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If it does not flow freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 35 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Relieve Kidney-Bladder Passages WITHOUT DIURETIC PILLS

Rest better at night.

One of the oldest, best known remedies in all the world for urinary disturbances, is Buchu-Midy, a capsule rich in East Indian sandalwood oil. Buchu-Midy helps to dilute excess acidity of the urine, which is the frequent cause of many kidney-bladder irritations. Buchu-Midy Capsules aid in making the urine bland, and the helps to soothe the sensitive membranes. Don't burden your system with strong diuretic pills. Get soothing Buchu-Midy and you—they cost a little more, but are well worth it. Insist on real Buchu-Midy Capsules at your druggist.

FRED WARING, MAESTRO
He Defends Swing

Waring Defends 'Swing;' Will Speak Here Mar. 16

Fred Waring, nationally known [illegible] who is to be a speaker here, March 16, at an afternoon session of the Eastern Music Educators' Conference, it was announced today.

He [illegible] will be "Training Young People for Music [illegible]." Waring said today he will defend swing music and demonstrate the value of improvisation [illegible] in the study of music.

"When a boy or girl tires of playing scales and the prescribed works of classical composers and is discovered improvising and fiddling around on his instrument in a more or less jazzy way parents and teachers should not be horrified," he continued.

"In reality this is an encouraging sign. It shows the student has a real love for music and an inner urge to express himself through the medium of music.

"If at high school age, this taste for jazz music still persists then the student's feeling for jazz is valid and may lead to other tastes.

"Swing has found favor with young people because it is in a sense, the music of revolt. It romanticizes the improvising soloist the lone trumpeter, the 'hot' drummer.

"Suppose swing does kill the folk songs and the classics. What's the harm in that?

"Swing takes a simple theme and has fun with it. The sense of fun has been sadly lacking in much of the music offered dog matically to the young.

"Teachers and parents ought to give consideration to the student's natural beat and usefine tive approach to his instrument and to music.

"If the son of the family wants to play drums, by all means let him play drums. In any case it is futile to insist on the mastery of any musical instrument, if the talent and desire to learn to master it are lacking."

PROFESSOR LESLIE HOWARD in the process of developing a Galatea, portrayed by the new "find," Wendy Hiller, in "Pygmalion," first George Bernard Shaw story to win success on the screen. It opens today at Loew's Orpheum and State.

Gus Van Headlines New Stage Bill at RKO Boston

Gus Van, "The Melodic Man," formerly of Van and Schenck will top [illegible] and screen show at the Boston. The first-run features, "Navy Secrets," starring Fay Wray and Grant Withers, and "Homicide Bureau," featuring Bruce Cabot and Rita Hayworth, will make up the screen bill.

Together with his late partner, Joe Schenck, Gus Van was one-half of that world-famous singing team, Van and Schenck. Together they headlined every leading theater in America and appeared in the Ziegfeld Follies of 1918, '19 and '20. They introduced "Mandy," "Won't You Come Back Once More" and "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and other popular song numbers.

Joe Besser, the slapstick comedian in "Abie's Irish Rose" with Lou Payne, will have the next important position on the bill.

Other acts billed in the stage show include the Robbins Brothers and Marion in their acrobatic and dancing presentations; Woolford's Pets, canine comedians, and the Four Warnicks in "Math Mad" and Dan [illegible] Russell Hunt, dancing xylophonist, winner of last Friday's "Professional Auditions," is also billed.

Olympia Feature

"Sweethearts," lavish Technicolor production, based on Victor Herbert's famous operetta and co-starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, will be shown at the Washington Street Olympia, starting tomorrow. On the same bill will be "Mr. Moto's Last Warning," with Peter Lorre in his usual starring role.

'In Old Chicago' At Bijou Friday

Allan Lane and Frances Mercer in "Crime King," and Loretta Young and Tyrone Power in "Second Honeymoon" are today's box office lures at the Bijou Theater. Coming tomorrow are "In Old Chicago," with Don Ameche and Tyrone Power, and "Lancer Spy," starring George Saunders.

The Life of Christ

CHAPTER TWELVE

"AND HE goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto Him whom He would; and they came unto Him."—St. Mark III:13

By COLLIN CLINE

JESUS had twelve disciples, or apostles. Favored of all men, they were chosen to accompany Him during His earthly ministry witness His miracles, learn His doctrines and thus be able to promulgate His religion.

The selection of these followers is reverently portrayed today by Domenico Mastroianni, Italian painter and sculptor, who modeled his characters in wax and skilfully photographed them.

Saint Mark tells us our Saviour's disciples were: Simon Peter and Andrew, brothers; James the Greater and John, who were the sons of Zebedee; Philip of Bethsaida; Bartholomew; Thomas; Matthew; James, the son of Alpheus, commonly known as James the Less; Lebbeus, his brother, who was surnamed Thaddeus; and Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot.

Of the first four Simon Peter, John, James the Greater and Andrew were fishermen while Matthew was a publican or tax-gatherer.

When their number was reduced to eleven by the suicide of Judas, Matthias was chosen by lot on the proposition of Saint Peter. Later the group became thirteen by the miraculous conversion of Saul who until a time named Paul, was to become one of the greatest of Christianity's teachers.

Judas Iscariot who betrayed Jesus to His enemies for thirty pieces of silver was the only disciple who did not belong to Galilee, and was the only one who had another motive beyond love of God for seeking membership in the little group.

John wrote in his Gospel that Judas loved money and was a thief, that he "had the bag and bare what was put therein," which in the language of today, means he carried the apostles' purse.

Of course the evil in this traitor's heart was known from the beginning by Christ. It was to Judas that He referred when He said to His disciples: Have I not chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?

Undoubtedly Jesus permitted Judas to remain because He wished to show that the vast majority of men are honorable and trustworthy, and that the small minority who lack these virtues have a perfect opportunity to reform.

TOMORROW, we shall read of the only time Christ showed anger. The dramatic event will be illustrated by William Hole, inspired artist of the British Royal Academy.

"LEARN TO BLUSH," says M. Dono Edmond, former beauty advisor to the late Queen Marie of Roumania.

American girls, he contends, habitually look men straight in the eye as though they were trying to probe the masculine mind.

In his opinion, this is a serious mistake. Not only are the gentlemen embarrassed, but they are apt to feel inferior.

As a result, the perspective husband's thoughts stray from romance, and the girl often jeopardizes matrimonial opportunity. This in all seriousness, we hardly convincing.

To most people, the ability to look men straight in the eye is a proof of strength of character and honesty of purpose that have made the United States the foremost country in the world.

Probably if Europe women borrowed a little of this American courage, they would enjoy more freedom and happiness.

JUST WHY Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars persists in setting his alarm clock for a night shift and take to creeping in the daytime is a riddle for which science has no answer.

If they had come from Venus the answer would be easy. They merely would be following far Eastern time. Triumphant Egyptians of long established white blood have been known to work nights and sleep days for this reason.

But these ants come from Dr. Ditmars' Island of Tomorrow in person, and our fancies are therefore too easy explanation to be found in any geographical time sense.

DR. DITMARS SAYS they have gone "crepuscular." That begs the question as the word merely defines night or twilight activity. There is also wide open the question of why the visiting ants and drones demand pink rooms devoid of reflected light. Maybe they're making a bet to the right.

During nearly all my newspaper career, Dr. Ditmars has been a headliner. Santa Claus is no pattern. I can think of no one who has provided more good copy.

He debunks many gaudy myths

of the animal world, but he substitutes for them homely if not mean facts which, as they accumulate, are more fascinating than the cleverest fiction.

ONE OF those parasol ants I had always supposed that they carried those leaf umbrellas about as big as a quarter just as parasols to ward off the sun as I supposed pretty nearly everybody else believed.

Dr. Ditmars puts me right on that. They gather them only for food. But it has come up with his revealing story of how they make cakes out of the leaves of the forests of Java among the soldier guards, the leaf cutters, the nurses, the porters and others he maps their niches up for what he finds out.

YOU DON'T have to take his word for it. He feeds the ants as they toil at night's work by shading the cages so the ants think it is night. So they shall perform an accustomed working day for the benefit of us humans. Dr. Ditmars are, more but discovers in any kind of science in short are apt to be genius.

The old Hans Fabre French naturalist pointed out. A spider laid her eggs on her back and hatched them by spinning them.

From removal the eggs from the back of one spider's mother will succeed in normal young. They look to be just like the eggs Palmetto lay other day we scooped her shell-like of cats.

Some of our systems pointed phenomena many years to catch amazing ones.

Grocery Fishing

By MARTHA LEE

FISH for this dish was caught on the grocery shelf where you're always sure of a choice of "catch." Garnish fish loaf with sliced hard-cooked eggs and parsley and bring from oven to table in glass baking dish. Serve with tomato sauce.

BAKED FISH LOAF

1 egg beaten
2 teaspoons chopped onion
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
Mix ingredients together and add 1 cup flaked baking fish, 1 cup corn (350 deg. F.) about 30 minutes. Turn out on platter and serve with cream sauce made from soup and garnish with parsley.

FISH SALAD

Season one cup flaked fish with one tablespoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon salt. Shredded shrimp or anchovies may also be added if desired.

SHRIMP COCKTAIL AU LA TOMATO FRAPPE

1 No. 1 can tomato juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons horseradish
Few drops tabasco sauce
Mix the tomato juice, lemon juice, horseradish and tabasco sauce. Turn into a freezing tray of refrigerator and freeze, stirring frequently until mixture is mushy. Turn into chilled cocktail glasses and serve with the shrimp through the center of the ice.

JUST as they count the days before Christmas, Vincent Clubbers are now saying there are only fourteen days before their musical revue "Tonight At Nine" goes on the boards . . .

Each of the different groups of deb and post-deb preparing for this annual extravaganza put in a nine-hour day six times a week . . . and the ballrooms of the Somerset Hotel have been turned into temporary theaters, with groups of girls practising their various specialty numbers in every available corner . . .

Shorts and sneakers, or tap shoes, are, of course, the universal costume of the girls who are actually doing the singing and dancing in the show . . . and this same free and easy attire is also popular over at the University Club where badminton enthusiasts are polishing up their technique in preparation for the annual New England championships which begin Friday, March 17.

Elianor Petri of Brookline, bride-to-be of Elliot Robbins, has taken quite an interest in badminton and is helping out on the women's committee for the tournament . . . Working with her are Mrs. Benjamin A. G. Thorndike of Dedham, Mrs. Robert G. Vickery of Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Henry Simonds of Brookline, Mrs. D. Crane Jenney of Dedham and Mrs. C. P. Atherton of Marblehead.

NORTH BAY, Ont., March [illegible] (Canadian Press) Olivia Dionne [illegible] Toronto [illegible] the Canadian National [illegible] to see the King and Queen [illegible] Monday.

"No but you never can tell what may happen.

"You know, I thought the king and queen would rather see the children here where they were born."

Judge J. A. Valin, one of the guardians, said there was no reason why the children should not go to Toronto if the [illegible] permits.

"We cannot refuse to let them go to see the king and queen if the king and queen cannot come to see them," he said. "They are their majesties' wards and we should do all in our power to follow the sovereigns' wishes."

Back Optimism With Hard Cash

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

Worm business men back optimistic opinions with cash there is no denying the genuineness of their beliefs . . . And public fears against [illegible] of sub-normal activity, that cheerful talk is simply a way to maintain courage, quickly disappear . . .

[illegible] several recent instances of cash backing sponsor words . . . And a new concrete supplies us with a particularly interesting case in point . . . Frank M. Archer, chairman of the board of the Mack Company, stated today:

Frank M. Archer

"We believe general business conditions in the United States are definitely on the upgrade. We are more willing to take a normal business risk than we have been in recent years . . . We plan to spend at least 10 per cent more in advertising this year.

VET FACES WELFARE CHARGES

Larceny of $140 from the city of Lemon Soldiers' Relief Fund was charged against a welfare recipient today as federal auditors ring joined Boston police in an investigation of welfare frauds.

Leaders of the two agencies in question are Joseph Desmond and James McDevitt said they could identify Gaetano Buccaro, 49, of Maverick street, North End city with Lemon since February 1934.

The warrant contains 134 specific charges.

The legal technicalities resulting in the detention involve the status of the latter which, it was offered, affect a certain number of aliens.

Buccaro, who has been granted his first papers, is a veteran of the World War. He and Rose A. Whitney, 3,000 from a public welfare account filed before the court.

Records of the funds were said to show a life of comparative ease. Rose said he received $8 monthly from the welfare fund and $15 weekly from the city worker and lived rent free.

Desmond said the pioneer secured $ [illegible] months ago and the [illegible]

Gale-Swept Ship Here 3 Days Late

Storm-tossed during the ten days of its crossing from London to the United States liner American Merchant docked today at East Boston, three days late. Nine of her 24 passengers debarked.

Captain Robert A. Smith veteran skipper of the ship described the voyage as the worst in his experience.

Three times he was forced to order the liner hove-to when gales made headway impossible.

Robert Gray, 12 son of Roland Gray, Boston attorney was among those who landed here. He made the crossing alone from London where he had been attending a private school.

On board but for landing here was an Austrian refugee couple Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Overland found for New York to begin life anew.

Overland explained he had Anglicized his name to protect relatives in Vienna from reprisals.

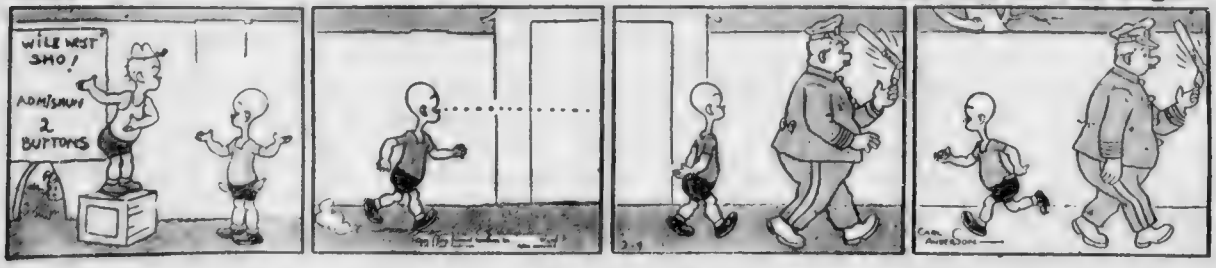
HENRY

And Then the Fun Began!



Austen Lake:

In Defense of Big-Time Sport

THE HEAT IS ON AGAIN! Each winter, when the sport pages begin to hunger for type, educators begin a clinical assault on football. Thus President Alexander G. Ruthven of Michigan calls on the colleges to halt football exploitation or retire from the teaching business. Dr. Jock Sutherland has resigned from Pitt in protest over administration niggardliness. President Bob Hutchins of Chicago has just remarked that the major football colleges are as avowedly in the amusement business as Ringling Brothers or the Chicago Cubs.

Austen Lake

From an academic viewpoint both Alex's and Bob's premises are sound! For many a college catches muscular kids and puts them in the show business without honestly stipulating the scale of pay. Indeed, it may be, as John Erskine, the noted British fictionist and lecturer, says, "The only courses being properly taught in American institutions is athletics."

But wait a minute! It may sound slightly wacky, but there is a sound defense for our top-heavy sport system—a defense which theoretically would concern the college's obligation toward this nation's non-collegiate society. And now who is being naive?

Still, high pressure sport whether it be college football, league baseball hockey or prize fighting, drains away a dangerous surplus of this country's nervous energy. It is the sport whatever its fault is a healthful opiate for [illegible]

* * *

Have a Look at Europe

IF PRESIDENTS ALEX AND BOB wish to question this, let them look at Continental Europe, where sport is incidental or a state monopoly and where spiritual toxins (poison to you) generate until they erupt in anti-race prejudices, political intrigue and massed militarism.

Sport is a trivial matter in Europe—a smattering of soccer, a little bicycle and motor racing, grade-B boxing and a huge amount of calesthenics, body tortions and deep breathing. It's pretty hard to work up an emotional sweat over touching your toes or blowing finger-tip kisses to imaginary sweethearts.

Let critics Alex and Bob note that there are few sport craters in Europe such as dimple every city and most of the towns in this country, to which people flock each season to watch lean and lithe kids rip each other to anatomical shreds. Is it merely the love of oxygen and the kiss of the open air that brings them out? No! It's a topic for 12-months conversation—advance conjecture and post mortem! It's the great American appetite for sport!

Well, take away big-time sport and what have you got?

You have a Nation of spare-time thum-twiddlers obliged to rummage in their minds for something to brood about. The human mind works that way. Gone would be the Saturday saturnalias, the strutting drum leaders, the great horseshoes of screaming humanity, the anticipatory tremors and the aftermath of conversational "Ifs." Gone would be the week-long build-ups and the Sunday morning reviews. For, the majority of Americans attend football games, either in the corpore, as the saying is, or via the sport pages.

* * *

Ten-Ton Tail, Two Pound Dog

IF I WERE TO OFFER ANY DEFENSE for the U. S. sport page that fantastical jumble of he-man jargon, it would be for its sedative effect on the National nerves and mind. A good natured charitable and credulous mind as a whole! Indeed, as one recently returned from Washington and the National grab-bag, I marvel at the sturdy qualities of a people who can survive so much governmental mismanagement and still stay patient.

The whole sport page and college football scheme I know, is ballooned out of all proportion to importance. The games are huge medicine shows. The newspaper language is shamefully extravagant. But both are flavored to the popular taste, even though the "ten-ton tail is wagging a two pound dog," as Yale's emeritus Angel recently wrote. The "ten-ton tail" also wags another, more mammoth animal—the great commonwealth of J. Q. Public, wife and children.

Thus, if Presidents Alex and Bob, viewing the football menace through smoked, academic lenses, would slay the college Frankenstein they would also slaughter what, from the public aspect, seems nothing more than an amusing toy.

* * *

Each to His Own

AND MIND YOU THE DISSENTING Prexies are right! The colleges are definitely in the amusement industry for profit. Yet, during the New Deal we are discovering daily that a man can be right on one side of a subject and be multifariously mistaken on many other, equally vital, sides of the same question. Any one problem of National need has as many angles as there are facets in a pear-shaped diamond.

The greatest good with a minimum of injury is the only answer!

So, what to do about college football? Shall we burn down the barn to get rid of a mouse? Exploitation of college kids is wrong. But the fact, many times proved, is that major football colleges do not exploit youthful innocence. They recruit their regiments of whiskery kermudgeons from factory, dock and mine and pit them against other whiskery kermudgeons, similarly recruited. And other colleges, according to their degree of conscience, stay comparatively sanitary and play with people who wash behind the ears and say "Please" and "Thank you" to the ladies.

In other words, each to his taste.

Well, after all, this is just a wastage of words! For the college prexies, like Alex and Bob, are only fighting their annual windmills and the end will be, as in Viki Baum's Grande Hotel—seasons come and seasons go but nothing ever happens!

Sinus Again Threatens Foxx as Season Nears

Feared Bugaboo Strikes

By HERB FINNEGAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 9 — Serious sinus trouble which considerably threatened the major league career of James Emory Foxx two years ago was the most prominent visitor in the Red Sox camp here today although there was no mention of the bugaboo from the big first baseman's corner.

Pair Ice Teams For Title Tilt

At a meeting held last night the draw for competition in the N. E. A. A. U. hockey title series which begins tomorrow night at the Arena, was completed with 16 teams paired and three drew byes.

In the opening tilt the Medford Hockey crosses sticks with the Club Marquette. The second game will see the Junior Olympics tangle with the "97 Club"; Amesbury Maple Leafs meet the Heggie Whippets in the third encounter; Mount Hood engages the defending champions, Hyde Street, and in the fifth the Sand Diggers of Providence meet the Peabody Town Team.

The opening game will begin at 6:45. Games will be played in 20-minute alternating periods. Quarter final and semi-finals will be decided Monday afternoon and evening.

Bob Pastor Rates Next to Louis

Nova Is Third Al McCoy Fourth

SO AS TO start a discussion I offer you my rating of the world's ten leading heavyweights. My list is as follows:

No. 1, Joe Louis. No. 2, Bob Pastor. No. 3, Lou Nova. No. 4, Al McCoy. No. 5, Max Baer. No. 6, Maurice Strickland. No. 7, Max Schmeling. No. 8, Tony Galento. No. 9, Buddy Knox. No. 10, Tommy Farr.

I offer apologies for some of the heavyweights named in my selections. They couldn't have made a first 20 rating a dozen years ago when Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, Harry Wills, Jack Sharkey, Jimmy Risko and numerous other capable fighting men were tossing leather.

Nobody will question Louis' position at the head of my first ten. He is unquestionably the best heavyweight in the world, and is expected to rule his boxing division for five or six more years. I do not believe there is a heavyweight today who has a chance of winning from Louis.

Louis is a rare boxing combination. He can box and also knock out an opponent with either hand.

Bob Pastor won decisions with Al McCoy in their ten-round (non-title) bouts and is No. 2 rating on his record. Pastor won the first bout [illegible] years ago, and was given the "Boston Bomber" decision to give him a return match.

Pastor is a fine boxer and hits well with both hands. Johnny Johnston, who trained Bob and Louis [illegible] to fight [illegible]

"In the last Louis-Pastor bout," said Johnston, "I kept Bob on the defensive. I wanted to make sure he would weather the ten rounds. That bout convinced me that Pastor can beat Louis, and I know he will accomplish this feat if they meet again. Next time Pastor will carry the fight to the champion."

[illegible] caused me to change my opinion about

Nova and McCoy Show Improvement

[illegible] AND Al McCoy have improved their ring ratings [illegible] year. Nova scored an impressive victory [illegible] Tommy Farr, Welsh veteran, and Buddy Knox [illegible] Nova and Knox are both young, and so should continue [illegible] Nova is scheduled to meet Max Baer in May, and [illegible] a return contest with Louis.

Max Baer, rated No. 5, can step himself up on the list by [illegible] Nova. Baer is taking his training seriously. He has [illegible] a penalty.

"At the age of 29 I believe Baer can still come back," declared Ace Hartman when last in Boston. "If Max had been as serious about his physical condition when he was champion as he is today, he would still be champion."

• • •

Tony Galento Given Eighth Place

TONY GALENTO isn't entitled to higher than eighth rating. Max Schmeling, Buddy Knox and Tommy Farr injustices by placing the Newark tavern keeper above them on my list.

Galento was a fair fighter ten years ago, but age has [illegible] removed him from the ranks of the real contenders. The Louis will draw a huge gate as a novelty attraction, but [illegible] appearance is more interested in freak attractions than in [illegible] contests. The bout itself will prove disappointing [illegible] as quickly as he wishes to.

Max Schmeling is only 24 years of age, and has a chance [illegible]

Max Schmeling is included in the first ten merely because there is a poor crop of heavyweights. Max is long past his boxing peak. He plans to engage in two tryout bouts in Germany, and if he wins he will return to the United States looking for more American dollars.

• • •

Pastor Slight Choice in Garden Bout

PASTOR MUST win from McCoy at the Garden tomorrow night to retain his No. 2 rating. Bob rules a 10 to 9 favorite. There is no McCoy money as a result of Al's recent win over Lou Nova and impressive showing in the gym.

When Pastor and McCoy last met, Bob counted with two knockdowns, and went on to win the decision on points.

McCoy looked impressive in the seventh and eighth rounds, and then tired.

Frequent bouts have improved McCoy's boxing, and also made it possible for him to step ten rounds without tiring.

[illegible] of Al's work tomorrow night the fans will be offered a [illegible] they will receive when they pay a $55 top [illegible] Galento.

Louis Promises Quick K.O.

VICTORVILLE, Calif., March 9 (AP)—Joe Louis, 210 pounds of [illegible] and dynamite, yawningly confirmed today a suspicion of California fight fans.

If the cash customers miss the first round, Joe admitted, they probably won't see much of his bout April 17 in Los Angeles with aging Jack Roper.

"I like to get 'em quick," the champion drawled.

Joe wasn't popping off his mouth about his fistic prowess, but he wanted to squelch any report that he intended to "carry" the 36-year-old Roper for a few rounds to make the fight more interesting.

"I know he can punch, but I think I can lick him just the same."

Louis rates Max Baer as his most formidable challenger, predicts a Baer victory over Lou Nova, "who can't box much and don't hit hard."

"Then I'll fight Max in September," he said, "in shape, he can lick 'em all—except me."

UNTOLD STORIES OF THE RING

BY JACK CONWAY

Copyright, 1939, by Boston Evening American and Jack Conway

Jack Dempsey received some of his most bitter attacks from thousands of people who thought he was afraid to fight Harry Wills, the "Black Menace."

As a [illegible] fame [illegible] Wills [illegible] heavy weight [illegible]

Jack Dempsey, champion of [illegible] Wills [illegible] Madison Square Garden [illegible] Muldoon, president of the [illegible] Commission, to meet Wills [illegible] New York Athletic Club [illegible]

I [illegible] read his mind.

How many will it cost to get Wills in the ring? I asked.

THE GOLDEN DAYS

You [illegible] I were [illegible] those days with those [illegible] tossed aside a million dollars as if it were [illegible] Everybody was there then. Tex Rickard, the [illegible] Mayor Hylan, and all the [illegible] Broadway, and all had to [illegible] to get up by noon [illegible] to get your share of it.

Maybe these days are better for all of us. We have at least learned how to work again.

I asked Kearns [illegible] Harry Wills.

"No," he replied. "I managed Wills when he fought Sam Langford on the Coast. Wills had Langford down seven or eight times, but the 'Tar Baby' kept getting up. Langford then reached up and clipped Wills on the jaw. When Harry went down he didn't get up.

"Langford and Jack Johnson were better fighters than Wills.

"Langford and Dempsey would have made a terrific battle. Both were punchers."

Kearns [illegible] Langford and Johnson and possibly Wills might have beaten Joe Louis.

"Dempsey would have been a cinch to have stopped the 'Brown Bomber,'" asserted Kearns. "Dempsey at his best could punch as hard as Louis, while he also could take a stiff wallop and come back fighting. I don't believe Louis acts well when hit. He becomes jittery when belted on the chin. Even Natie Mann staggered the champion when he crashed him to the jaw in their bout last winter."

RICKARD OPPOSED BOUT

Tex Rickard once told me he had opposed a Dempsey-Wills bout.

"Dempsey would have fought Wills any time I had asked him to do so," declared Rickard, "but I didn't want the match.

"I had enough trouble following the Jeffries-Johnson bout in Reno, Nevada, in 1910. Johnson 10 per cent of the gate, and so Dempsey could have got 50 per cent which would have given him $1,500,000. That would have been the largest purse ever paid to a boxer."

Kearns [illegible] attempt [illegible] match.

I [illegible] read his mind.

"I had enough trouble following the Jeffries-Johnson bout in Reno, Nevada, in 1910. Johnson became very much disliked, and he hurt the boxing game.

"I considered Wills a good type personally, but I was afraid that if he won boxing might suffer. I felt very strongly on this matter after I had built the New York Garden at a cost of $4,800,000. I had too big an investment in boxing to risk ruining it by a Wills victory.

"Dempsey was always my idea of a champion. A great fighter and loaded with color, he made the million dollar gate in boxing."

After Dempsey [illegible] became [illegible] Chicago Coliseum [illegible] Wills. Under the contract the match was to [illegible]

HARRY WILLS BLOCKED

The Chicago Coliseum [illegible] Harry Wills [illegible] I was with Paddy Mullen [illegible] Hotel in Philadelphia [illegible] afternoon on the day of the Dempsey-Tunney bout when Tex Rickard [illegible] to have Wills go to the Sesquicentennial Stadium where the title bout was to take place.

"Rickard doesn't want anybody to start a demonstration for Wills," said the Rickard lieutenant to Mullins.

Paddy for the first time admitted that Wills [illegible] to be able to block the Tunney bout and get the chance at Dempsey.

"You can tell Johnny Buckley that I'll sign Wills to fight Jack Sharkey for Humbert Fugazy in Brooklyn," Mullins told me.

A few minutes later I met Buckley and Sharkey. The latter had just come from Boston, where he had beaten the gigantic George Godfrey in Mechanics building at a show promoted by Bob McKirdy and Eddie Mack. Sharkey was elated when he heard Wills would meet him, but he said he would not consider the match a certainty until the contracts were actually signed and on file with the New York Athletic Commission.

Harry Wills at the height of his fistic fame sailing for Europe with his wife. Jack Dempsey was in Europe at the time, and Wills was trying to force the champion to meet him in the ring.

CREAM OF 'PURES' AT GARDEN MONDAY

Forty amateur mittmen are slated to clash at the Garden next Monday night in the annual N. E. amateur boxing championships.

[illegible] Each [illegible] drivers, shipping clerks, office boys and bell boys will also have their fling.

Each gladiator has blasted his way through weeks of hectic warfare. Monday is the big night, the evening eight New England champs will be crowned.

Five of the top-ranking atmosphere bantams in New England will swing it. The class will show John Leonard, Coyle high school student from Taunton; Herve Libeite, Andrew Trozzi, 22-year-old Stoneham auto salesman, who has twice been around the world seaving as an able bodied first class seaman; John Picarello of South Boston, and Frank Pecoraro, 20-year-old Weymouth high student.

The middleweights will feature the 32 championship bouts. Every one of them can rock with either mitt and will [illegible] Joe Marucci, North Adams, N. E. Golden Gloves 1937 147 pounds champion and winner of the 160 pounds state crown this year; Freddie McLean, Roxbury bus attendant and 1938 N. E. VALUABLE PRIZES GIVEN FOR GREAT BOWLING TOURNEY

Something new develops daily toward assuring the success of the fourth annual Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser grand candlepin bowling championships, to be staged at the Huntington Club from Saturday, March 25 through Saturday, April 8.

For instance, Joe Conway, president of Horace Partridge Company, prominent Franklin street sporting goods store, donated many fine pairs of official Horace Partridge bowling shoes of kangaroo leather, made with both rubber and oak hide soles.

On top of which a new and beautiful trophy was forthcoming from John Ambrose, well known owner of the Kenmore Recreation Alleys of Brookline avenue and the Central Alleys of Cambridge.

Then comes the personal donation of Genial Jack Stafford, Beau Brummel of the bowling world and Huntington Club host.

Stafford has given several dozen grand prize awards, including grained leather wallets for the schoolboys, lovely compacts for the schoolgirls and pipes of the finest for the men contestants.

And still the prize lists are only started, many more as yet to be announced and augmenting the amateur array of awards touched off by the donation of the 11 handsome and costly Gruen Precision wrist watches made by Gruen Watch Company of Time Hill, Cincinnati.

Among today's entries was the A. and P. team of Stoughton, composed of George Briffett, Chester Ellason, Nat Esten, Harold Fobes and Francis Mitchell. Paul Doherty and Elanson will also pair in the men's doubles.

The entry blank that appears daily in both the American and Record is official. We urge you to mail it today, complete with proper entry fee.

Shadow Perfecting Defense

The Shadow, mysterious heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, is leaving no stone unturned in perfecting a defense against the flying tackle, a hold of which he undoubtedly will see plenty when he defends his title against Gus Sonnenberg a week from tonight at the Garden.

The hooded title holder had four former grid stars, all of All-America calibre throw tackles at him for more than an hour and at the finish he gleefully announced:

"Not a one of them hurt me and I guess they were harder tackles than Sonnenberg can throw now."

The former football players who played the part of battering rams were Ernie Concannon, one time star with N. Y. U. and more recently with George Marshall's Redskins; Bill Pendergast, star back at Waltham High and Manhattan; Joe Swan of the Shamrocks, and Jim Wallis, backfield ace at Holy Cross.

Swan, who is a big fellow of better than 230 pounds, did rock The Shadow once, but could not knock him off his weet. The others caught him squarely but seemed to made no impression although they said they were giving it all they had.

B. U. attempted to unmask The Shadow but the attempt was futile. Helen Champlain is at left; The Shadow has a headlock on Freda Feldman, while Alice MacDonald is below.

School Five Open Tourney At Tech Gym

Tech's annual schoolboy court tournament starts this afternoon which is big news to the hoop teams of Massachusetts. Eight of the best clubs have been invited to compete for the winner of this joust is declared state champion.

Walter Corbett's Somerville high five enjoys a slight margin of favoritism over the other seven out competition in Eastern Massachusetts has been so keen of late that to attempt to pick the ultimate winner would be nothing more than mere stabbing.

Quincy has been playing sensational basketball all year and seemed likely to go into the tourney top choice but in the past two weeks they have bowed to Fitchburg, New Bedford, and Chelsea, successively.

On paper Peabody presents an enviable record, having won 22 out of 24 games, 18 of them in a row. The Tanners have recorded victories over Lynn Classical, Everett, Haverhill, and Lawrence but, oddly enough, their two losses were sustained at the hands of Lynn English which will prove an obstacle in the Hangar play.

Brendan's Cottage Wins Gold Cup Race

CHELTENHAM, Eng., March 9 (AP)—Brendan's Cottage, Mrs. A. Smith-Bingham's Grand National hopeful, today won the Cheltenham Gold Cup, three and a quarter mile trial for the steeplechase classic at Aintree, March 24.

Brendan's Cottage, an 8 to 1 shot in the field of five, finished five lengths in front of Captain J. Bridges' Morse Code, 1938 winner and favorite at 4 to 7. G. Whitelaw's Embarrassed was third. Morse Code and Embarrassed are not eligible for the Grand National.

Glancy to Coach Manhattan Frosh

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—Edward W. Glancy of Valley Falls, R. I., was named by Athletic Director Herbert M. Kopf to coach freshman baseball at Manhattan College.

Glancy is a senior at the college through a change in his scholastic course, but completed his three years of athletic eligibility last spring.

RECKLESS JUMPER OUT

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—Sir Francis Towles' reckless jumper, Airgead Sius, was scratched today from the Grand National Steeplechase to be run March 24 at Aintree. He was one of the favorites until he injured a leg a week ago.

Checker Tourney At Cambridge 'Y'

The Cambridge Checker Championship Cup will be at stake when William Griffin 1935 Massachusetts champ, and James Hanron, 1939 Boston champ, meet in the final round of a tournament held at the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. under the auspices of the "Y" Checker Club, tomorrow night.

Griffin defeated William Michael in the semi-finals last Thursday. The championship cup, which is presented by the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. Checker Club, becomes the permanent possession of the player who wins it three times in successive years.

Seabiscuit Out Until '40' Season

LOS ANGELES, March 9 (AP)—Barring another change in plans, Charles H. Howard's Seabiscuit will remain on the turf shelf until 1940 and then attempt a comeback.

The stable previously hoped to give the Biscuit, which went lame with a bad ankle last month, a rest until spring, and then try to bring him back for the $50,000 Hollywood Gold Cup handicap July 22.

"Boston After Dark," by George Holland, appears every day in the Boston American.

Bill to Ban Track Phone Bets Beaten

Massachusetts horse tracks still will take big telephone bets from other cities again this year.

Informed that the state benefited by $20,000 in some $500,000 bet in this manner yearly, the House defeated by an 82 to 37 vote a bill which would have banned telephone bets to tracks. Representative Francis X. Coyne sponsored the measure.

Warrington Tops Lazar in 'Thriller'

JACK PALLAT MAURICE STRICKLAND

Jack Pallat of Cleveland was an easy target for Maurice Strickland of New Zealand at the Mechanics Building

By JACK CONWAY

"Tiger" Warrington, fighting the best battle of his career, twice came up off the floor to win from Roy Lazer of Newark in a stirring 10-round bout at an Argonne A. A. show at Mechanics Building.

Lazer dropped Warrington at the opening of the first round with a smashing left hook to the body, while in the ninth frame he sent the "Tiger" to the canvas for a count of nine with a terrific right hand belt to the jaw.

Those were the big moments in the bout for Lazer and also for the crowd. In the other rounds, Warrington had command as he rocked his sturdy rival with solid punches to the head and body.

LAZER CUT UP

It was one of the best heavyweight bouts seen in Boston and had the crowd in an uproar most of the time.

Warrington's punches cut Lazer up badly. The Newark heavyweight was bleeding from a cut over his left eye in the third session, while Roy's right eye was cut badly in the eighth session.

The claret was trickling from wounds over both of Lazar's eyes in the ninth round when he wound up his right and planted it with great force on Warrington's jaw. Warrington's legs shot from under him and he landed in a sitting position on the canvas.

Warrington was startled and partly dazed. At the count of nine Warrington was on his feet, and fought back hard.

Warrington then came on to win the tenth round. The score card showed eight rounds for Warrington and two for Lazar. The crowd would have liked to have seen the match called a draw, but the verdict in favor of Warrington was a just one.

Maurice Strickland, New Zealand heavyweight, had too heavy a punch as well as too much ring class for Jack Pallat o' Cleveland.

STRICKLAND BY K. O.

Strickland won by a knockout after 1m. 11s. of fighting in the fifth round.

A right hand punch to the jaw dropped Pallat with only four seconds to go in the fourth round. Strickland scored four knockdowns in the fifth session before he was declared the winner.

The Anzac boxer looks like a good fighter. He boxes well and keeps forcing the issue. It will take a much better fighter than Pallat to beat the New Zealand heavyweight.

Pat Comiskey of Newark won in two rounds over Martin Seaman of Cleveland who substituted for Julio Ortensio when the doctors found the latter had a high blood pressure of 220 degrees.

Seaman wasn't in any condition to fight and after he went down from a left jab in the second round Referee Watson, and one of the judges voted a ruling of "no contest." They added that Comiskey had done his best, but held up Seaman's money.

John Lusko of Willimantic outscored Marshall Grosso of New Haven in four rounds. Emil Scholtz of Germany disposed of Mario Liamf of New York in four sessions.

Sam Maltempo of Willimantic received the duke over Johnny Hayes of Roxbury after four stirring rounds. Herman O'Connor of Winchendon won from Humphrey O'Sullivan of Jamaica Plain in two rounds in one of the novice heavyweight bouts.

The Maine novice heavyweights, who were billed to show, were in an auto accident while en route here. One of them was injured.

BRUINS' FIRST GAME IN GOTHAM

By the Associated Press

The National Hockey League Clubs get back into the swing of late-season campaigning tonight with some idea of just where they are going.

While the seven teams took their usual Wednesday night off, the loop's board of governors got together and set dates for the annual elaborate playoff series for the prized Stanley Cup.

Boston's first place Bruins and New York's second place Rangers, their positions already clinched on the basis of their records, will play a best-four-out-of-seven series opening at Madison Square Garden, March 21.

The second and third games will be played at Boston March 23 and 26, with the fourth game in New York March 28. If more than four games are necessary they will be at Boston March 30, New York April 1 and Boston April 2.

Clubs in the four other playoff positions will participate in a best three-out-of-five series starting March 21 and continuing on the 23rd and 25th or 26th. The alternate date for the third game was included for the contingency that it would involve Toronto, where Sunday hockey is illegal.

March 28, 30 and April 1 were tentatively set for windups of the latter playoffs with the team triumphant in this elimination meeting the Bruins-Rangers winner.
